

Selling your images through www.imagesofchina.co.uk

Would you like to sell your pictures of China and Hong Kong through our specialist on-line picture library?

Imagefinder Ltd are seeking amateur photographers with high quality digital photographs of China and Hong Kong to add to our specialist online Picture Library www.imagesofchina.co.uk

Photographers receive 50% of the fee for each licensed use. The photographer will be credited along with the Library for each use and retains the copyright of the image. The price list of usage is available as a pdf download from the Download Dock on the Website

We are seeking images of all aspects of traditional and contemporary rural and urban life, including agriculture, architecture, cultural heritage, tourism, wildlife, landscape, people, commerce and industry etc from all regions of China. View our current library content at www.imagesofchina.co.uk as a guide to the quality and variety that we are looking for.

If you would like your images to be considered for the library, please send no more than 30 images representing the range of your work by e-mail to admin@imagesofchina.co.uk. These must be JPEG files no larger than 250KB each. You can send a lightbox or a photoshop gallery. Under no circumstances at this time should you send larger files.

When the images have been chosen the Picture Library will need high quality digital images with a file size of not less than 8MB RGB along with 12-20 word caption for each picture.

We will reply to all submissions and if your work is accepted we will confirm our terms of business and details of how to send us the full sized files using our Dropsend account.

If your work is accepted we will pay for any use of images through PayPal, therefore you must have a PayPal account.

We look forward to hearing from you.
